COMPOSTABLE  WOODEN

cutlery

THESE ARE

the most amazing and intriguing utensils you will ever eat with! VerTerra Wooden Cutlery is premium 100% compostable, all natural, single-use wooden cutlery that delivers stunning form, function and environmental responsibility, without sacrificing performance or costing more than plastic.

FORK

Famous for being able to pierce a raw carrot, its strong tines will not deflect and bend the way plastic tines do.

KNIFE

The unique serrated blade is strong enough to easily cut steak yet sharp enough to slice a ripe tomato.

SPOON

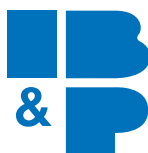

Filling the needs of both soup and coffee spoons, the VerTerra Wooden Cutlery spoon is strong enough to dig into hard ice cream.

STRONG

Patented laminated construction allows the fork to pierce a raw carrot, the knife to cut anything from a steak to a tomato, and the spoon to dig into hard ice cream with ease.

ALL-NATURAL

VerTerra Wooden Cutlery is made from wood, an FDA-approved adhesive and a plant-based coating, plain and simple. Nothing nasty, nothing you can't feel good about.

LIGHTWEIGHT

At about 3/4 the weight of comparable plastic, VerTerra Wooden Cutlery is strong, but also light, making it easier in the hand and less expensive to ship.

COMPOSTABLE

VerTerra Wooden Cutlery is certified 100% compostable. It can go to industrial, municipal or backyard compost facilities, completely avoiding landfill.

TASTE-FREE

Proprietary finishing processes ensures the enjoyment of food not the taste of wood. VerTerra Wooden Cutlery has a soft and smooth finish in the hand and in the mouth.

ERGONOMIC

The patented process used to make VerTerra Wooden Cutlery allows for deep curves and smooth edges—impossible with any other wooden cutlery. Deep spoon bowls, natural neck curvature, sharp knife blades, and fits perfectly in the hand.

ECONOMIC

VerTerra Wooden Cutlery is about the same price as medium-quality plastic. It's also cost competitive with bioplastic cutlery and is truly compostable.

DOMESTIC

VerTerra Wooden Cutlery is made using only domestic materials and labor. This means confidence that the product you use has been harvested sustainably and manufactured to known health and safety standards.

What does the cutlery you choose say about the meal you serve?
